Is it Academic?

Is it Vocational?

"I've heard of Women's Lib, but this is ridiculous!"

"My daddy's golden raiders beat Hoover!"

Sometimes, Mr Mease gets a little behind in his work.

"Maybe this is Day Seven!"

"Once in a while we take time out for study."

"I'm sorry Mr. Stafford. I'll bring my homework tomorrow, I promise!"

This one speaks for itself.

This is our exchange student from Turkey

Smile pretty!

"I wish she'd sit like a lady!"

"Well, I missed the bus again."

School starts so early in the morning this year, nobody has time to get dressed.

Oakwood has the best looking cheerleaders in town.

Student Council is doing their job to make Oakwood a school of higher learning.

Everyone's a ham!

"Romeo, Romeo, where for art thou, Romeo?"

What a bunch of winners!

All right students, The lesson for today is . . .

"Oh boy, they're having chuckwagons again today!"

"I guess that's the last we'll see of Mr. Gaume."

So the old bear finally decided to come out of Hibernation, huh?

"O.K. Chris, you pull the alarm and I'll look the other way."

"Today Oakwood — tomorrow the world!"

All eyes focused on the overhead . . .

And Oakwood produces yet another golden toe.

The Oakwood faculty enjoys many things in the Oakroom: serenity, tranquility, and real food.

Looks like senioritis hit early this year.

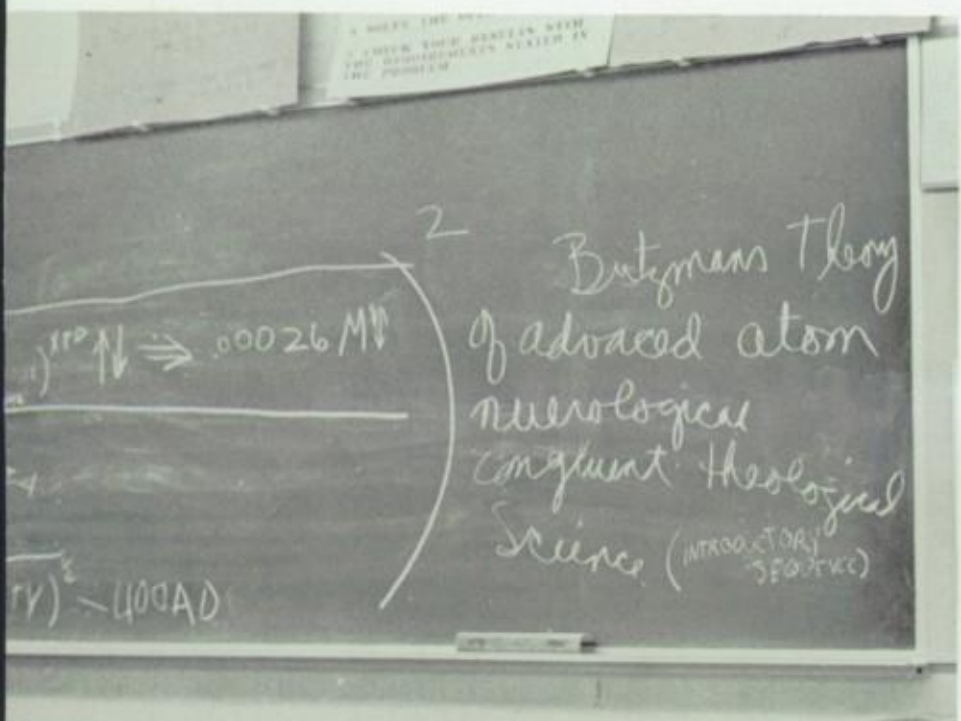

Isn't Science wonderful?

"On the first day of physics . . ."

"You need an elevator pass to get to the third floor."

And from the monkey evolved . . . .

From a "Crow's-eye" view.

Being on your own is in itself a great way of learning.

"Honest Coach, I was home studying last night".

"Miss Librarian, has the Dr. Seus series come in yet?"

No one can be that high!

... My vocational training proved to be quite helpful ...

"You put your head in and you shake it all about . . ."

"We're O.K., the rest of the world's upside-down."

"Yea Oakwood!"
